The estate is valued at over $1,000,000, and the contestant, who left home when a boy and did not see his father for twenty-five years, is left only $100. His wife and three children each receive $1,000. The balance of the estate is divided among three other children of the deceased, all of whom are prominent in Brooklyn, where Mr. Ingraham lived for years. The contestant charges that the will is a fraud, inasmuch as none of the witnesses actually saw Mr. Ingraham sign the document. Surrogate Jackson adjourned the case until Nov. II.

turn to Oklahoma at his own expense and denounce him.

In justice to Gov, Haskell, Mr. Monnett stated that the Governor had repeatedly asked for an opportunity to disprove the charge, and had been subposeneed to appear before the examiner who was taking testimony in the Standard Oil hearing, but that he did not so appear, because the Court had ordered the quashing of the testimony. "I threatened to arrest Mr. Soulre if he did not give me the names of the parties to the bribery proposition, whereunon he mentioned Frank Rockerfeller, Ferd B. Squires and Charles N. Haskell, of New York."

Mr. Monnett said further that Gov. Haskell "phoned, wired and wrote" asking an opportunity to exonerate himself and that Gov. Haskell was the only one of the three men who did.

"He said at that time," Mr. Monnett said, "that there was a W. C. Haskell and the fear that the public might imagine it smelled oil on the candidate's coat, contracted in bad company.

The method of payment of the bribe, said Mr. Monnett, was that he should be furnished with the key to a safe deposit vault where $500,000 was to be deposited and he was told that he could first go and see it and then let it remain in the deposit box until he'retired from office or until he got ready to take the money out. Finding that he was about to be arrested for offering the bribe, Mr. Monnett said that Squire disappeared to New York and that, despite his efforts, Squire had not been indicted.

F. R. COUDERT SAYS HE'LL VOTE FOR TAFT

Democratic Lawyer Admires Achievements of Republican Candidate.

Converts to the Bryan ranks have been numerous and when the Republicans gained their first recruit among prominent New Yorkers to-day there was much rejoicing. Frederic R. Coudert, lawyer and Democrat, said: "It is my intention to vote for Mr.

lawyer, judge and great colonial administrator, mark him rather as a doer that something would turn up to save of things worth while than as a talker believe that the complex economic questions of the day can be solved by "I am unable to see that the Demo cratic party in this campaign stands for anything in particular save & rather clumsy attempt to outbid the last Republican administration on any and every proposition and a somewhat pathetic pretension that its candidate is the real heir to the Rooseveltian
